EPCM.expert SRL announces the successful completion of biodegradability tests for 3YO Technology products

EPCM.expert SRL is thrilled to announce that the technical-natural products of 3YO Technology have masterfully passed the rigorous international biodegradability tests of the "Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development," officially recognizing their extraordinary level of environmental respect.

The conclusions highlight a brilliant passing of all tests, now officially bearing the prestigious title "READY BIODEGRADABLE," a result sometimes observed in pharmaceutical or food products, for example.

This achievement is the result of over a decade of research and development, including certification attempts with previous products that, despite numerous tests, never succeeded in this endeavor. Persistence and innovation have led to this success, highlighting EPCM.expert's commitment to promoting sustainable practices and supporting a circular economy for a greener future.

"The results of these tests are extraordinary and confirm our commitment to the Environment and Workers, as well as excelling in exemplary solutions and performance related to cost attention," said Loris DALLE NOGARE, General Director of EPCM.expert SRL.

"We are proud to offer our customers products that not only meet but exceed biodegradability standards, ensuring unparalleled performance, ease of use, and affordability for all. Considering the new products (3YOGUN and 3YOTS for laser and plasma cutting, ed.), EPCM.expert is drastically innovating a sector that, in our opinion, has been stagnant for decades," concludes Loris DALLE NOGARE.

In light of this significant step with unique products of their kind, EPCM.expert SRL invites consumers to beware of imitations. Performance, costs, and environmental respect are now existing and certified aspects in both the industry and DIY.

3YO Technology products are now a new benchmark in the sector, also in relation to this legendary certification that adds to the previous ones, with no known equals worldwide.
